To Whom It May Concern:

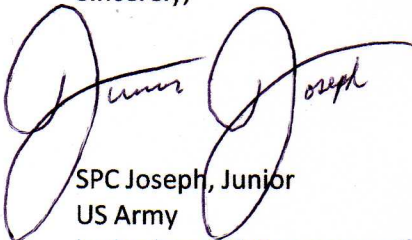

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for an outstanding young lady, Brittney Harris. I have known Ms. Harris since 2003, when I became her high school mentor. As her mentor of eight years, I have watched her develop both academically and personally into a mature, caring individual, ready in every way to begin her career as an elementary teacher.

Ms. Harris is a very likeable person who is sincere about her ambitions. I have always known her as someone who is willing to lend a helping on. We have spent a lot of time talking about her goals and aspirations after completing her Bachelor's of Science degree in Elementary Education.

I see many qualities of a good teacher in Ms. Harris. She is confident, patient, understanding, and most of all shows true compassion for children. It is evident that she has the drive to survive in the teaching industry. She sees teaching not as just a career, but a venue for her to transmit her ideas for the advancement of education.

Above all, I believe Ms. Harris has made an excellent start in her chosen profession: working with children. She would be an asset to any school where she teaches at in the near future.

Sincerely,
